The Pathwise Community Consists of Leaders Working in Companies such as Microsoft, Cisco, Philips, Oracle, Aramark, and Crane Aerospace.

Here is what they are saying about Pathwise:

“Pathwise has opened my eyes to a previously undiscovered world that exists just below the surface and has given me great insights into human behavior. It has changed the way I manage and interact with employees and has certainly made me a more effective leader and better communicator.”

-James Kimmel, COO
Epic Seats

“Learning how to listen to transference has made it so that I can understand exact client needs before they do. You can’t imagine how much new business has relied upon this alone.”

-Greg Hatch, Director
Cisco

“Pathwise explains not just the what, but the why people do what they do, and does so in a way that is immediately and directly applicable, both personally and professionally. I cannot think of a more intellectually engaging and relevant way to develop the skills taught in this program.”

-Jared Reimer, CEO
Cascadeo

“The suspension of attention class gave me a focused awareness that I hadn’t experienced before. I can’t wait to experience the rest of the program.”

-Mary Peterson, Manager of Recruiting
Microsoft

“Pathwise is an intensely engaging and fascinating experience. By providing insight into my reactions to people and situations, my perspective has widened immensely. My business productivity and personal effectiveness have grown considerably from the experience, and I highly recommend it.”

-Sean Cunningham, CEO
Logic 20/20

“I already perceive and react to dynamics more effectively than I thought was possible. I am also learning a lot about myself, which is a benefit I didn’t expect.”

-Ryan Heacock, Manager
Crane Aerospace

“I didn’t believe that psychodynamic tools could be applied in business, but after working with Pathwise I immediately found countless applications.”

-Steve Angelo, Director
Oracle Corporation
